Forewords.

A DESIRE to prove eligibility for membership in the Society of Colonial Wars, and in the Sons of the Revolution, was the beginning which has culminated in this little brochure. And as the work progressed, the interest intensified, no one who has not engaged in like research being able, scarcely, to appreciate the pleasure which comes to the worker.

THE generous returns for the labor of research finally persuaded the writer to put his results into book shape, at first with no other idea than for immediate family use. But the ancestry proving so wide spread, and running into so many collateral families, caused him to believe that it might be not only of interest but of value to others, and in such hopes it is offered.

THERE is one fact brought out in these descents which may be referred to with pride, and that is, WITHOUT EXCEPTION, all these families herein mentioned were in New England prior to 1650. Such a "full blooded Yankee strain" is well worthy of note.

FOR the information and satisfaction of the children of the writer, the Revolutionary descent of their mother is added, making a fitting close to that chapter.

IT may add a slight personal interest for those who consider this little work of some value, to be informed that the labor of research, composition, type setting, press work, binding—in fact everything connected with it, has been the personal work of the writer, no other hands having been permitted to touch it. The not inconsiderable labor of preparing the very full index, it is hoped will be appreciated by all who have occasion to refer to it.

NOT only have the original records of many towns been conscientiously looked through, but every obtainable town and family history has been carefully studied. The volumes of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, The Essex Antiquarian, The Genealogical Advertiser, The Genealogical Quarterly, the Essex Institute Proceedings, and the Collections and Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society, have been faithfully perused. Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, Pope's Pioneers of Massachusetts, Waters' Genealogical Gleanings in England, Hoyt's Old Families of Salisbury and Amesbury, and Bodge's Soldiers in King Philip's War, have been daily companions, and great credit is due to many other sources of information not herein enumerated. Especial mention however, should be made of the courtesy and kindness shown by those in charge of the Massachusetts Archives.

GREAT care has been taken to make every statement contained herein absolutely correct, but it would be beyond reason to suppose it perfect. Such as it is is candidly offered.

HAMLIN ELIJAH ROBINSON.

Colonial Ancestry.

Following are the lines of descent from those who served their country during Colonial Days, of HAMLINE ELIJAH ROBINSON, of Maryville, Missouri, member of the Society of Colonial Wars of the State of Missouri, (State Society Number 119, General Society Number 3248,) who was born April 22, 1845, at Brattleboro, Vermont, was married December 25, 1871, in Maryville, Missouri, to Florence Annetta Donaldson, and has children, born at Maryville, as follows:—

- i. ELLEN ANNETTA, born September 23, 1872, married February 14, 1894, at Maryville, to C. F. Terhune. Living, in 1902, at Siloam Springs, Arkansas. One child
    - i. DOROTHY, born at Maryville, December 3, 1894.
  - ii. CHARLES LAMB, born October 19, 1873.
  - iii. FLORENCE, born January 16, 1884.
2. Rev. Elijah Robinson, 1817-1887, Ellen Brown, 1826-1881.
  3. Orrin Brown, 1801-1833, Mary Read Cheney, 1803-1876.
  4. Nathaniel Cheney, 1758-1844, Hannah Read, 1764-1860.
  5. Wales Cheney, 1732-1825, Sarah Whitney, 1730-1822.
  6. William Cheney, 1703-1755, Joanna Thayer, 1706-1766.
  7. Nathaniel Thayer, 1680-1752, Sarah Wales, 1680-1708,
  8. Elder Nathaniel Wales, 1650-1718, Joanna Faxon, 1661-1704. L
  9. Nathaniel Wales, Jr., ....-1662, Isabel Atherton, ....-1661.
  10. Maj. Gen. Humphrey Atherton, ....-1661, Mary Wales, ....-1672.

Ninth in descent from MAJ. GEN. HUMPHREY ATHERTON, of Dorchester, Mass. He was a native of Lancashire, England, of an old family in that county, where he married Mary Wales, of Idle, County York, and where several of his children were born. It is pretty certain that he came to America in 1635, in the ship James of Bristol, in company with his brother-in-law, Nathaniel Wales, Sr., and Rev. Richard Mather. Both Wales and Atherton were influential in aiding Mather in the nourishment of the First Church at Dorchester, which had been seriously weakened by a large part of its membership emigrating to Connecticut. Atherton was made freeman in 1638. The same year he joined the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, of which he became senior Sergeant in 1642, Ensign in 1645, Lieutenant in 1646, Captain in 1650 and 1658. He was Deputy to the General Court from Dorchester in 1638, and served in that capacity nine different years following. He was Speaker in 1653, Assistant from 1654 to 1661, and Commissioner in reserve for the United Colonies in 1656, 1659 and 1660. He was Lieutenant in command of an expedition sent against the Indians in 1645, as is shown by the following extract from the Colonial Records:—

Att another Session of y<sup>e</sup> Generall Courte of Eleccions called by warrants by y<sup>e</sup> Gou<sup>r</sup>no<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 12th 6mo 1645, P<sup>r</sup>sent thereat the Gou<sup>r</sup>no<sup>r</sup> Deput Gou<sup>r</sup>no<sup>r</sup> & y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> Assistents wth all the deputs of y<sup>e</sup> last generall Courte except Left Atherton: who was sent out on Speciall occacion.

He was Captain in 1646, commanded an expedition against the Narragansetts in 1656, and was Major General in command of the Massachusetts Colonial forces in 1660 and 1661. For many years he acted as commissioner in settling the boundary lines of newly laid out towns, was active in the administration of numerous estates, and was particularly a favorite performer of the marriage ceremony, that being wholly a civil performance at that time. Altogether he appears to have led a strenuous life, and he received a number of grants of land from the General Court, in recognition of his public services. On September 17, 1661, he died from the effects of a fall from his horse, which stumbled over a cow lying in the road, as he was returning to his home in Dorchester, after reviewing his troops on Boston Common. Mary (Wales) Atherton died 1672.

Revolutionary Ancestry.

Following are the lines of descent from Revolutionary heroes, of HAMLINE ELIJAH ROBINSON, of Maryville, Missouri, member of the Missouri Society, Sons of the Revolution, who was born in Brattleboro, Vermont, on April 22, 1845, married at Maryville, on December 25, 1871, to Florence Annetta Donaldson, (see her Revolutionary ancestry further on), and has children as follows:—

- i. ELLEN ANNETTA, born September 23, 1872, married February 14, 1894, at Maryville, to C. F. Terhune. Living, in 1902, at Siloam Springs, Arkansas. One child
    - I. DOROTHY, born at Maryville, December 3, 1894.
  - ii. CHARLES LAMB, born October 19, 1873.
  - iii. FLORENCE, born January 16, 1884.
2. Rev. Elijah Robinson, 1817-1887, Ellen Brown, 1826-1881.
  3. John Robinson, 1782-1865 Hannah Patch, 1775-1855.
  4. Elijah Robinson, 1750-1826, Mary Dike, 1751-1822.

Third in descent from ELIJAH ROBINSON, who was born in Dudley, Mass., July 25, 1750, the son of Capt. Paul Robinson and Hannah (Trumbull) Robinson. While but a youth his parents moved just across the state line into the town of Killingly, Conn., where he grew to manhood. He served first in the Lexington Alarm, in the company of Capt. Joseph Elliott, from Killingly, his younger brother Aaron Robinson, going out in the same company. He reenlisted on May 8, 1775, in Capt. Joseph Elliott's company, (8th), of Col. Israel Putnam's regiment, (3d), and was discharged December 14, 1775. This regiment was recruited in Windham county, Connecticut, under a call made by the Connecticut Legislature at a special session held in April and May, 1775. The regiment marched by companies, in May, to the camps forming around Boston. It was stationed, during the siege of Boston, in Putnam's Center Division at Cambridge, and was engaged, in part, in the battle of Bunker Hill. In July, 1775, the regiment was adopted as Continental. It is stated, traditionally, that Elijah Robinson enlisted again in 1776, when the Windham County Regiment was reorganized, and Benedict Arnold was made its Colonel, but the records of that year are very defective. In 1780, Elijah Robinson married Mary Dike, of Killingly, two of whose brothers were in the same company with him, one of them dying in the service in 1777. Early in the Nineteenth Century Elijah Robinson and family moved to Windham county, Vermont, and he and his wife are buried in the old Townshend cemetery, on a hill northeast of that village. Mary (Dike) Robinson died February 22, 1822, aged 71 years, and Elijah Robinson died August 6, 1826, aged 76 years.
